Communicants of the Greek Orthodox Church celebrated Easter yesterday, the fore midnight Saturday and continuing date of the Greek Easter and the day celebrated by other divisions of the Christian Church is owing to the fact that the Greek and Russian churches reckon time by the old calendar. Services at St. Sophia's Greek Orthodox Catholic Church were in charge of Rev. Father Joakim Alexopulos, rector, who wore the red and white vestments of the church. The old Gregorian chant by a choir of men, unaccompanied, was the principal music of the services. The Greek minister to the United States, Rev. K. With the other honors coming to the boys who passed the advance examination they will receive certificates of merit, signed by the President of the United States, and a medal which is to admit them through fire lines in any city of the country.

Taught by Marine Corps Officers.

The boys who took the elementary examination were taught by Capt. A. C. Christie, U. S. M. C. The course consisted of ten lectures, with textbook the structure of the bones, the location of arteries, bandaging, two methods of resuscitating the apparently drowned "preventive first aid" or methods preventing such diseases as typhoid and malaria. The advanced first aid class was con-and the course given carried the elementary work into the more difficult classes of first aid problems. The advance work extended over an entire year. The four candidates who passed the advance examination now constitute the first Boy Scouts of this city duly qualified to engage in teaching first aid to others. L.
